What does the archipelago have to offer?

“Life on the small islands in Åland is more relaxed than in towns and cities. There are less things to worry and stress about, so there’s more time to spend with those close to you.”

“Nature is strongly present in everyday life on the islands and offers many opportunities for free time activities, such as fishing, kayaking and picking berries and mushrooms.”

“The Åland archipelago is very safe.”

Availability, bookings and costs

The offer is available all year round expect for the months of July and August.

Transportation, meals and accommodation in the archipelago is covered by the host municipalities.
